“ Well done faithful servant!

If I knew she was still alive, I would travel to Pennsylvania to see her. I was born in 1958, she was the one who helped my mother giving birth to me at Beraca Medical Center (La Pointe des Palmistes, Haiti). She was more than a nurse.

My sympathy to her sister, sister-in-law and nieces

Loretta significantly influenced me as a young 19 year old I spent 6 months with UFM at La Pointe, Haiti. I asked Loretta if, in her time there, things had improved?

“No,” she replied. “ In many ways, they’re worse.”

“Then how can you continue on?” I queried.

Her answer was a life lesson I carry to this day.

“ God is in charge of the outcomes....my job is to be faithful each day to the tasks at hand in the place He has called me to.”

RIP dear Loretta. You touched that young woman profoundly in more ways than you ever knew.
